

Patricia Richard

St. Mary's Art teacher, Mrs. Patricia 'Trish' Richard has been honored by being selected to be on the Educator Advisory Board of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. This three-year appointment is a competitive position as only twenty educators from public and private schools are nominated and invited to apply. The board meets once each month and faculty will also serve on various subcommittees to work on special Museum projects.

We wish Trish the best as she joins this professional and prestigious board. It is also an outstanding opportunity for her to be among artists from all over the state and to be a part of the renown MFA staff. St. Mary's is proud to recognize her accomplishment. Congratulations, Trish!
